

Coordinate, Integrate, and Respond: A NIMS Discussion

Stay up-to-date with the latest incident management updates

Download Now!

Thursday, September 20, 2018 | 2:00 PM ET | 11:00 AM PST

The field of Incident Management is constantly evolving. New threats emerge. Technology changes. New strategies develop. The National Incident Management System (NIMS), being the national framework, evolves to reflect these new realities so that all incident personnel --from those on the front line to those in the front office--have the guidance, tools, and experience they need to successfully perform their incident responsibilities.

Join us for Coordinate, Integrate, and Respond: A NIMS Discussion as two guest speakers from FEMA, NIC Director Dan Alexander and NIMS Implementation Project Lead Lucia Schmit, and moderator Richard Serino, former Deputy Administrator of FEMA, discuss recent updates to NIMS designed to:

- Help you optimize the performance your Emergency Operation Center
- Improve inter-agency coordination and mutual aid
- Expand NIMS guidance beyond traditional first responders

Attend Coordinate, Integrate, and Respond: A NIMS Discussion on September 20th at 2 PM Eastern.

SPECIAL NOTE: We will be fielding questions on Twitter during the webinar, so be sure to utilize #NIMSChat during the webinar!

Our Speakers:

Dan Alexander,
NIC Director

Lucia Schmit,
NIMS Implementation
Project Lead

Richard Serino,
former Deputy Administrator of FEMA

Register for the Webinar