Course: L0426

Building a Roadmap to Resilience: A Whole Community Training

Dates:

October 31 - November 2, 2018

Location:

Lynnwood, WA

Time:

8:30am - 5:00pm

Course Description:

This interactive course focuses on implementing inclusive emergency management principles in local communities, and how that approach can increase a community's ability to mitigate, prepare for, respond to, and recover from a disaster. This course will provide tools to help community groups move beyond basic awareness and onto engaging activities that truly move the needle on resiliency. Students are expected to be active participants in this course to enhance their level of knowledge. As a course outcome, students will develop a roadmap to resiliency customized for their community, to include proven best practices for engagement and tested preparedness activities.

Target Audience:

This course is intended for community stakeholders interested in disaster resilience, as well as junior emergency management professionals who support or implement inclusive emergency management, community disaster planning, preparedness activities, and community outreach at the state and local levels. For the purposes of this course, junior emergency management professionals are considered those with less than three years of experience.

Course Objectives:

- Introduce recent research linking social capital to Whole Community resiliency.
- Examine the state of preparedness of the individual citizen, to include common motivations and barriers to getting prepared.
- Develop strategies to leverage Citizen Corps and other structures, such as interfaith councils, civic associations, chambers of commerce, and parent-teacher associations in order to facilitate community resiliency gains on the local and regional level.
- Build a roadmap to move each student's community beyond awareness and toward action to increase levels of preparedness.

Prerequisites:

Students should have a basic understanding of the fundamentals of emergency management and community preparedness.

Funding:

Tuition is free for those accepted; there are no travel/salary stipends available for this offering and all incurred costs are the responsibility of the attendee or sending organization.
