Subject: FEMA Hiring Actions for Disaster Recovery Reform Act

I am pleased to announce an exciting and timely opportunity to join FIMA's new era of pre-disaster mitigation designed to not only reduce disaster relief and recovery spending, but to also further improve the nation's resiliency.

The Disaster Recovery Reform Act (DRRA) was signed into law in October 2018 and provides FEMA with an exciting new legislative authority for pre-disaster mitigation. As was recently shared at the National Emergency Managers Association meeting and FEMA's Hazard Mitigation Workshop, these announcements are the beginning of Mitigation's hiring for DRRA implementation. This is a great opportunity to be part of moving mitigation forward and supporting FEMA's mission of helping people before, during, and after disasters.

We want to encourage as many folks as possible to take an active role in guiding these policy decisions, and as such, have a voice in the development of FEMA's programs by joining the federal workforce.

For members of the public, please find the announcement at:

For individuals with federal, competitive status please find the announcement at:
